LUXURY TRAVEL, FOOD, WINE, FASHION & OTHER MUST DO'S

THE TOP 10 WINERIES IN ST. HELENA YOU

MUST EXPERIENCE March 6, 2019

It seems that everyone who comes from out of town always asks me where to wine taste in Napa! For starters, Napa is not the only place close to San Francisco. I also love Sonoma County which includes Healdsburg, Sonoma, The Russian River Valley & more. So be sure to check out both Napa & Sonoma during your upcoming wine country travel.

If you do head to Napa here is a list of my favorite wineries to visit in St. Helena, and here is my Napa Valley Top 10 list. Read more below!

ALPHA OMEGA

A winery which I just recently had the privilege to visit is Alpha Omega. Established in 2006, Alpha Omega was created to offer handcrafted wines that blend the Old World with the New World. Founded by proprietors Michelle and Robin Baggatt this is unlike your typical Napa Valley winery. Robin Baggett possesses a proclivity for cowboy boots, cowboy hats and big, Western belt buckles. Michelle Baggett, originally from George is just that, a fabulous hostess with that lovely southern hospitality. This down to earth, approachable and talented couple relocated from San Luis Obispo to Napa Valley in 2006 to found Alpha Omega. 1155 Mee Ln, St Helena, CA 94574

The interior of the tasting room with picturesque views of the vineyards and the stunning water feature guests enjoy while visiting Alpha Omega.

The fire pit which was my favorite spot to relax during my first visit there. It's hard to leave with beautiful vineyard and Highway 29 views and amazing wines which keep coming and coming. This team is incredible when it comes to hospitality!

Me and the most amazing hosts, Alpha Omega Owners Robin and Michelle Baggett during their Winter 2018 Alpha Omega Winery pick up party which I attended (this was quite a party, I hope to go back again it was such a blast).

Alpha Omega Winery did a toy drive at their pick up party where members donated toys to the children impacted by the recent Campfire Fire in Northern California. What a lovely way for the winery and their members to help those impacted by the horrible wildfire.

The Alpha Omega Winery VIP Tasting Building which I have toured and tasted in with proprietors Michelle and Robin and is spectacular. It is super luxe yet also comfortable and feels homey in a luxurious yet warm way. I suggest you do a tasting here if you visit Alpha Omega.
