She rose to fame as a teenager in High School Musical.

And Vanessa Hudgens will be honored with an award at the Napa Valley Film Festival, happening this week.

She hit the red carpet on, the second day of the four day festival, Thursday, in a gorgeous backless gown.

The former Disney star, Vanessa, stunned in a high yellow, high-neck, sheath dress. She showed off the backless feature, throwing different poses for the camera.

The 30-year-old actress/singer had a full her raven locks, parted in the center, down in voluminous loose curls.

Keeping accessories to a minimum, she carried a small gold clutch and donned long dangle earrings.

She will be honored with the Blackbird Vineyards Visionary award.

Jillian Bell, who recently starred in Brittany Runs a Marathon, was the third honoree of the night. She was receiving the Alpha Omega Spotlight

The festival credited her for her early rise to fame, beginning her acting career at age eight in Catherine Hardwicke's Thirteen.

While the Footloose star, Kevin, 61, had a casual dressed up look and was joined by his wife Kyra Sedgwick at the Napa Valley Film Festival, where guests sipped Clase Azul tequila.

He was clad in a shiny silver button up, with no tie, under a grey suit, paired with black shoes.

Looking studious he also wore a pair of black, rectangular glasses.

His wife, the Closer star, looked sophisticated in a bat-wing style white down.

Hitting just above her ankles, the dress revealed brown boots.

The veteran actor was being awarded the Charles King Legendary Actor award.

'Kevin Bacon is one of the foremost actors of his generation,' the film festival said.

Adding: 'His talent for balancing starring roles with powerful supporting characters in film, television, and on stage has allowed him to build a varied and critically acclaimed body of work.'
