Here's an image that might leave you a bit hungry on a warm summer day. You're sitting at a long table holding a glass of chardonnay, relaxed in your chair enjoying dazzling vineyard views and the mesmerizing Mayacamas Mountains in Napa Valley. And then, to top it off, steel buckets of https://mgvtvchron.files.wordpress.com/2016/08/img_1242.jpg Maine lobsters are poured along the center of the table.

Welcome to Alpha Omega winery's Annual Lobster lunch, held over the weekend in Rutherford. This event is the dining version of glamping. It's festive and fun! John Sorensen, known as the Lobster King catered this mouth-watering lunch that went well beyond lobster, bringing on prawns, Louisiana hot links, artichokes, corn on the cob, sourdough bread and more. Then there are the wines: a bright yellow gold chardonnay and their velvety proprietary red. It's enough to satisfy any palate.

Surrounded by vineyards and mountains, the beauty of this rustic, farm-style winery is as captivating as its wines.

"We have belonged to Alpha Omega Wine Club for years now and all of their events are excellent. The lobster lunch is always fun, and the wine is amazing. The great staff makes the day special, and the venue is beautiful", said David Elias of Benicia.

No feast is complete without music and this year Alpha Omega featured San Francisco-based singer/songwriter Bray. And there you are. You have beautiful surroundings, your very own large Maine lobster that pairs swimmingly with the great wine. What more could you want?

Stay tuned for one of their next events – a late fall barbeque that may prove to be your favorite of all time. At least it was for me. Alpha Omega proprietor Robin Baggett is known for his skills on the grill. The winery has a reputation for hosting unbelievable barbeques that flaunt how fabulously its sumptuous cabernet sauvignons, handcrafted by winemaker Jean Hoefliger, pair with scrumptious ribs. Highly recommend.
